The GSDO SCCS/E2ECC development project uses the AccuRev product for software configuration management as its core component. This product maintains the development source code versioning and configuration management of SCCS/E2ECC software delivery products through the sustaining, development, and testing phases of the project delivery lifecycle. AccuRev software support/maintenance renewal is required on the products in order to ensure technical support and software upgrades over the next year. Additional licenses (15) are required to support GSDO E2ECC Ground to Flight Applications Software development during 2015 and out years and must be compatible with existing equipment. To procure other software would cause a complete replacement configuration costing over $225,000.

Pursuant to FAR 6.302-1(c), the acquisition of the referenced software or services is determined to be available from this maintenance agreement. Competition is impractical for the following reasons:

The new purchase and support/maintenance for AccuRev and AccuBridge can only be procured through Micro Focus, Inc., One Irvington Centre, 700 King Farm Boulevard, Suite 400, Rockville, MD 20850, United States. Registered Number: 3409950. Micro Focus does not use distributors.
